Daniella, being proudly South African-born and raised, gave her the insight, and highlighted the inequalities within society. This gave her the drive and determination to personally succeed and help people. She has worked as an occupational Therapist and case manager in diverse settings, from rural villages in South Africa to working within the NHS and private sectors in London. She has extensive knowledge in the areas of cardio-thoracic's, orthopaedics, general surgery, and neurology.

Daniella's passion lies within the area of neurology and this led her to furthering her studies in a master's programme within Neurological Rehabilitation. She has developed a unique skill set which is transferrable to many circumstances. She works proactively, co-ordinating with professionals and services to ensure the most effective outcome for her clients.

Case Management Competencies

- Daniella utilises multimodal information gathering techniques to understand a client's limitations and how these impact their overall function.
- She critically evaluates situations and formulates action plans within specified time frames, ensuring her approach is underpinned by evidence-based practice.
- Daniella demonstrates effective communication and interpersonal skills, allowing her to build strong rapport with clients, their families, and key stakeholders. This connection supports clients in adapting during challenging or changing circumstances.
- She maintains a client-centred approach, recognising not only the client's physical disabilities but also the cognitive, social, and environmental factors that influence their experience. Daniella ensures that both the client and their family are actively involved in the decision-making process.
- She engages in a collaborative process that includes the client, their family, stakeholders, and other health services. This ongoing process involves assessment, planning, implementation, coordination, monitoring, and evaluation of services to meet the client's needs and achieve the best possible outcomes.

Client Testimonial

"Thank you to my Case Manager Daniella Souris that was able to come and see me in my home, during my most vulnerable time and for planning an amazing initial Rehab program. I can't thank you enough for your professional devotions. I would definitely recommend Unite Professionals."

Case Examples

- 29-year-old, former professional athlete and location assistant; sustained spinal and musculoskeletal injuries in a workplace accident. Client experienced worsening mental health symptoms post-accident, requiring urgent treatment. Case management involved collaboration with NHS and private mental health services, with a focus on a joint approach to rehabilitation.
- 34-year-old self-employed maintenance worker; involved in motorcycle accident; sustained a subarachnoid haemorrhage and mandible fractures, keen to return to work. Client required input with mental health, day to day management which were impacting activities of daily living. Case management involved supporting a home transition, establishing daily routines, managing complex MDT team with statutory services involvement.
